A shared vision for ICU care

The signatories set out a common aim to improve intensive care through:

- Digitalisation – using data to understand and improve care
- Standardisation – consistent, high-quality practice across units
- Multidisciplinary collaboration – doctors, nurses and the wider ICU team working together
- Developing CRRT – from a kidney therapy towards a broader ICU organ-support platform

> “This important initiative places Taiwanese healthcare at the forefront of care for acute kidney injury and acute kidney disease. It is exactly the kind of initiative ISCCN wishes to support going forward, as we work to improve care for all our patients.”
